Cold but improving weather. The maximum temperature yesterday was 54.3 and the minimum 52.3, the figures for the corresponding day last year being 62.2 and 35.6.

Press Hails British Order With Acclaim As Being Concrete Disarming

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—China Press Exclusive Service)

London, November 21.—The Admiralty's action in halting construction on three battleships under construction on the River Clyde and one on Newcastle-on-Tyne instructing the firms holding contracts to incur no further liabilities for new construction until further instructions, is hailed by the British press and public as being the first step toward a realisation of America's proposals. The order, however, is interpreted as being a temporary measure as there is a possibility of construction being resumed if circumstances make this necessary.

The order was like a bombshell in official circles, but it was stated that it was England's contribution towards the cause of disarmament showing that the government is sincerely desirous of proceeding in accordance with the Hughes proposals.

Admiral Sir Percy Scott declares that the suspension of construction marks "a red letter day for the taxpayer, saving him a hundred million pounds."

It is generally believed that work on the battleships will never be resumed. The London Evening Star points out that Britian has taken the lead in real disarmament whereas the United States, while it mentioned the suspension of building, has not yet taken official action to that end.

WIRTH'S WARNING MAY MOVE THE INDUSTRIALISTS

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 20.—The German Chancellor, Dr. Wirth, is reported to have told industrial delegates that, if they persisted in their obstinacy the Government would take rigorous fiscal measures, even if to obtain them, it were necessary to dissolve the Reichstag.

The industrial delegates were impressed by the Government's energetic attitude. According to reports they are thinking of presenting a plan for the management of the railways by the State and private enterprise but the Reichstag would probably not accept such a compromise.

EXPECT TO FINISH HARBOR STUDY BY DECEMBER FIRST

With their meeting of yesterday the members of the International Committee of Consulting Engineers, who are reporting on Shanghai harbor development, completed the fortieth session of the Committee. In entering upon the final stage of their task, the members are leaving no spare moments unoccupied and Sunday forenoon of this week was devoted to duty.

A trip of investigation was made in the latter part of last week, the area visited being the hinterland of the upper reaches of the Whangpoo. Advantage was also taken on this excursion of a visit of inspection to the Hangchow Bore. Weather permitting, similar investigation will be made on Wednesday in a trip which is being planned for the Soochow district.

It is now anticipated that the work of the Committee will be completed by December 1, the date which was originally planned.

The various members of the Committee are making arrangements to leave for their respective homelands in the early days of next month.

MIXED COURT AIDS CHINESE TENANTS IN RENTAL CRISIS

The Mixed Court has come to the aid of Chinese tenants with a decision which should bring rejoicing to thousands of households in the Settlement which lately have been much exercised over the probabilities of ejectment should they fail to meet increased rentals.

The Assessors and Magistrates of the civil branch of the Court, in an announcement published today, make known their decision not to issue distress warrants and ejectment orders against Chinese tenants of any domestic tenements whatsoever, or of other premises whose present rental rate does not exceed Tls. 150 or $200 per month, whenever in the opinion of the court the application is made in order to enforce payment of increased rental or for the purpose of obtaining possession with a view to reletting.

In order to give full effect to this decision the Court's present procedure whereby sealing orders are issued in respect of distress warrants on the exparte application of landlords is temporarily suspended.

The Court announces its reservation of the right to consider any special case on its merits and states that the notification does not affect special leases or agreements for a term.

The between landlords and tenants is gradually easing and compromises are being made the Chinese press reports. One big owner is reported to have promised his tenants to make an increase of three dollars instead of five dollars as previously announced, and not to make any increase within three yaars. Other amicable arrangements are said to be developing in several of the tenement districts in the settlement.

Adly Pasha Sees No Chance Of Pact

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 19.—The persistent rumors that Adly Pasha has failed to negotiate the Anglo-Egyptian settlement which was the object of his mission to London are confirmed by the announcement that he and his colleagues will return to Egypt tomorrow, which was made after Adly Pasha has had a final interview with Lord Curzon this afternoon lasting only half an hour.

PACT HELD IMPOSSIBLE

London, Nov. 19.—Reuter's Agency learns that Lord Curzon handed Adly Pasha a draft of the Anglo-Egyptain treaty, and the latter handed back to Lord Curzon a note stating that agreement on the basis of the draft treaty was impossible, and therefore the delegates were leaving London.

APPEAL TO IRISH TO END DEADLOCK

London, Nov. 20.—The Unionist party convention at Liverpool has overwhelmingly endorsed the continuation of the Irish negotiations confirming the Commons recent mandate.

However, with Ulster refusing to negotiate on the basis of a unified Ireland and Sinn Fein rebelling on any other basis, there is a general belief that the only course for the government to take is to appeal to the country.

World Peace Jeopardised With Japan In Shantung Is Northcliffe's Opinion

Famous Publisher, Here Briefly, Denounces Anglo-Japanese Alliance

(Lord Northcliffe's impressions of the Japanese domination of Northeastern Asia, of the assistance given in furtherance to their program by the Anglo-Japanese agreement, of the efficiency of Japanese propaganda in China are contained in the following statement issued by him for publication exclusively in THE CHINA PRESS during his brief stop in Shanghai yesterday.)

"IF you look at a recent map of the Far East showing all the alterations in that map during the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, you will find that Japan now controls the Eastern Asiatic Coast from Shanghai to Saghalien. At Vladivostok the Japanese dominate the Merkulov Government, they are intrenched in the Southern half of Saghalien. Dairen, Chemulpo and Port Arthur are Japanese ports.

"Japan is supreme in Tsingtau and along four hundred kilometers of railway which traverses China's sacred and richest province of Shantung to Tsinanfu, where the Government of Japan maintains a wireless station and barracks within one hundred yards of the Tientsin-Pukow Railway. A very strategical locality, where Japanese troops are stationed. They swagger about the district fully armed as though they owned it, in true Prussian fashion.

"In addition to which they have interior stations, such as a wireless station opposite Hankow where infantry and cavalry are also maintained near the iron mines. Imagine foreign troops with wireless stations at Pittsburg!

WILL LEAVE IF PRESSED

"Japan is willing to leave Shantung and the railway if hard pressed. Unless Japan does leave Shantung there can be no hope for peace in the Far East, which means peace in the world—for Great Britain at Weihaiwei and Hongkong, America in the Philippines, France in Indo-China must be prepared to refute any attempt of Japan to either militaristically or economically control the Far East and carry out the ambitious program which she has so efficiently begun.

"Fine words mean very little to Japanese diplomats. Remember one of the objects of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty was to preserve the independence of Korea. Where is that independence now?

"The whole story of the Anglo-Japanese agreement is one of promises which have been broken. Under that Anglo-Japanese agreement Japan has sworn to support the open door policy in China. That door is closed today by sub-

PRINCE'S ARRIVAL BRINGS DISORDER; SOME ARE SLAIN

Bombay, Nov. 19.—The outbreak in the bazaar district on Nov. 17, the day of the Prince of Wales' arrival, followed a non-co-operation meeting. There were bonfires of foreign clothing at the street corners. The crowd was swelled by the idle millhands.

Five trams were set on fire and a liquorshop burned down. Europeans were stoned. The trams were suspended. Military were called out to stop street fighting.

FOUR POLICE KILLED

Bombay, Nov. 18.—Further particulars of the disturbances here yesterday show that they originated when the rioters unsuccessfully attempted to prevent the people from reaching the Prince of Wales's procession. The rioters later attacked the holiday-makers on returning.

There were several police casualties, which are now stated to be four killed and 30 seriously wounded, due to the fact that a great majority of the plice were on duty in the processional route. The military rescued isolated parties and in the course of clearing the disaffected area encountered barricades.

RIOTS STILL ON

Bombay, Nov. 19.—Disturbances occurred at several points in the native city yesterday. The mob burned down the police-station at Nal Bazaar. A military patrol forced on and dispersed the rioters.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 20.—Police announced that three robbers overpowered a watchman in one of the largest local stores and escaped with $100,000 loot.

Northcliffe Says Alliance Checks Democracy In Japan

Lord Northcliffe issued the following statement hitting the Anglo-Japanese Alliance during the journey from Nanking to Shanghai:

AFTER the overwhelming hospitality I received in Japan it may seem ungracious to criticise. But I am able to do so in good conscience because in my speeches in Australia and Manila and in a plain statement made before entry into Japan, I expressed strong opposition to a further continuation of the anti-American, war-provoking Anglo-Japanese Alliance.

"That Alliance is the sharpest sword in the hands of the war party of Japan. Under cover of the Alliance the war party expends more than half the people's income on navy, army and fortifications. Japan's past arrogant attitude toward the United States would not have been possible without that Alliance. Chinese who detest the Alliance as much as do British and Americans in the Far East, blame Great Britain for their sufferings at the hands of Japan. Practically every British Chamber of Commerce in China has protested against the Alliance.

"One bad result of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance is the attitude of the war party toward Japan's desire for a real democractic Government. Owing to the strength of the war party the right of public meeting and freedom of the press are at the mercy of the police and censors, controlled by the war party.

"Many Japanese have told me that they hated Japan's imitation of German militarism. They are powerless. The so called diet, or congress, is a farce, and has no more power than had the German Reichstag. Japan is ruled absolutely by four men, tha Genro, the elder States men.

"Kill the Anglo-Japanese Alliance and you will rob them of half their power, though they will want watching this year, next year, and many years after that."

I'm A Funny Animal Says Lord Northcliffe To Press

BY BERT L. KUHN

"I'm a funny animal.

"I never drink, but I'm against prohibition.

"Dance? I think it's asinine for a man of fifty-six to make a fool of himself on a dance floor.

"Jazz? I can't stand the din of it myself, but I suppose it's all right for others.

"Books? I like good books. Bacon's essays have saved me many missteps.

"Work? I start at 6:30 every morning, work through until eleven, exercise and have tiffin, back at the office in the afternoon, dinner at seven, and after a final call to the office at 9 o'clock I get to bed, always by 9:30.

"I'm a funny animal."

Northcliffe—he was no longer Lord Northcliffe—was describing himself for us. Three hours in the aft end of his private car en route from Nanking to Shanghai had established an entente cordial, a freemasonry of newspapermen which made otherwise embarrassing questions come easily.

As the heart-throb fiction-writers were once wont to say, 'twas not ever thus. There had been a half-hour of indecision on our part, a period of not knowing what to expect or how to act. But Northcliffe himself had ended all that. Even the dictation of formal statements—Northcliffe never gives out an interview—was marked by well-taken interruptions of "you really can't say that"; "you're a little bit off on that point". And once they were out of the way, we were four reporters in place of three. He was one of us, an intimate one.

We started him off on his various likes and dislikes.

GREAT BIRD LOVER

"Birds," he said, "they're wonderful creatures. You know I have that in common with Henry Ford. He's a great lover of birds, too.

"And then there's golf. I'm a pretty good golfer. But no (in response to a joshing interruption) I really can't say whether I could beat Lloyd George or not. You see, we're not on golfing terms.

"Travel. That's the thing. The best education for any newspaperman. You know, I was very fortunate as a lad of sixteen. I was taken up by a wealthy man. He gave me the opportunity to tour the continent with him for a year. We went everywhere. I learned more real facts in that year than I have since during any similar period in my life.

"And study French!" (This an adjuration to aspiring young newspapermen). "It gets you anywhere. If you know French you are always at home."

Northcliffe in truth is a "funny animal," different from so many men in the fact that he is intensely human.

"I don't know a thing," he confesses. "All that I know is what other people tell me. They tell me many things. It is up

Many Entertainers To Appear At Motor Show

Public interest in the forthcoming Motor Show is becoming keener every minute, and judging by the conversation heard upon every hand, every mother's son and daughter in Shanghai will attend the Show.

Apart from the great attraction which the exhibition of all the beautiful motor-cars and accessories is in itself, the Entertainment Committee, of which Leon Friedman is chairman, has gathered together a galaxy of talent, which it is anticipated will provide a week's entertainment unique in the annals of Shanghai.

The Municipal Band, recently reinforced by a number of first-class European musicians, has been engaged for the week, and the famous Carlton orchestra will be in daily and nightly attendance in the spacious Dancing Pavilion.

A concert or variety show will be staged every evening after dinner, with a change of program every night. The first will be given Sunday night, with a classical program of vocal and instrumental numbers. The occasion will serve to welcome a newcomer to Shanghai, Mrs. Kitty Lyle from Scotland.

It is hoped also that that popular Shanghai favorite Madame Fano, will be able to appear for one or two songs, and music-lovers will be gratified to know that Mr. H. E. Muriel will give a few selections. Our French friends Messieurs Laverdure and Servarnin have also promised their assistance, and Mr. Speelman's numbers will be as welcome as they always have been. A specially attractive feature will be the part-songs of the schoolboys.

NOT ONE SHIP MORE IS ULTIMATUM GIVEN ON U. S. NAVY PROGRAM

Nippon Must Adhere To Original Estimate As Presented By Secretary Hughes At Opening Session Of Conference—No Power Must Get Even A Nibble If World Is To Disarm Now

TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT, IS LAST WORD

American Position Laid Down With Terseness And Determination Despite Serious Problem That Japan's Possible Balking Might Create

(Special To The China Press)

Washington, Nov. 19.—America has thrown another bombshell into the conference. It is aimed directly at Japan. It was hurled tonight a bare twenty four hours after Kato announced Japan's intention to increase both capital ships and light cruisers over and above the quota assigned to her by the Hughes program.

America announced in a nutshell that such suggestions could not be entertained. They regard it as striking at the roots of the whole American project to arrest competition on naval armament.

If no power is permitted even to get a little nibble there, the world chances of relief from naval competition are that much the better in the judgment of the United States. She urges the program in no haphazard manner.

It was worked out laboriously and America believes that she has treated Japan liberally. It is stated that when the time comes the Japanese will be told that they can take or leave America's proposals.

But from the terseness and determination wherewith the American position tonight was authoritatively defined there is no doubt but that Japan's proposals may create a most serious problem.

The Japanese delegation formally made the statement on the Far Eastern question to this effect. The statement said.

"Japan desires to make whatever contribution of which we are capable towards China's realisation of her just and legitimate aspirations. We are entirely uninfluenced by any policy of territorial agrandisement in any part of China.

"Japan adheres without conditions or reservation to the principle of the open door and equal opportunity for all nations.

"Japan does not claim any special rights or previliges" in trade relations.

"It said that regarding extra-territoriality Japan intends to join the other delegates in an endeavor to come to some arrangement which will be satisfactory to all parties.

U. S. MAY AGREE

(French Wireless through Renter)

Paris, Nov. 20.—Mr. Hughes, the United States Secretary of State, yesterday afternoon asked Admiral Baron Kato to call upon him and had a long and cordial conversation with him on the subject of the Japanese counter-proposals.

CHRISTMAS MAIL GOES OUT TODAY ON WENATCHEE

Christmas mails for the United States via the Admiral Line steamer Wenatchee will close at the U.S. Post Office today at 11 a.m. for ordinary mails and for registered at 10 a.m.

The Wenatchee will sail for Seattle at 1 p.m. via Japan ports from the China Merchants Lower Wharf and is due to arrive at Seattle on December 9.

Following the Wenatchee the last boat out of Shanghai that can take Christmas mail in time for delivery in the holiday season is the C.P.O.S. steamer Empress of Japan which will sail next Saturday and is due to arrive at Vancouver, B. C. on December 14.

The T.K.K. liner Tenyo Maru is to sail from Shanghai on December 1 and it will probably arrive in San Francisco on Christmas day. The C.P.O.S. steamer Empress of Russia will sail for America on December 10 and the Pacific Mail liner Empire State sails on December 12 for San Francisco by way of Honolulu.

INCOMING MAILS

The Keystone State of the Admiral Line is due to arrive from Seattle at 4 o'clock this afternoon and is bringing 194 sacks of mail for the American Post Office. The Keystone State will be dispatched for Hongkong and Manila early Thursday morning.

The O.S.K. steamer Hawaii Maru is due in from Seattle on Thursday and is bringing 173 sacks of mail for the American Post Office.

Musicians, Here Are Words For Auto Show Song

IN Sunday's issue of THE CHINA PRESS a prize of $50 was offered for a song for the Automobile Show which is to be opened in Shanghai next Saturday. Some of the verses follow. Others will appear in THE EVENING STAR this afternoon. The plan is for local musicians to select the verses that appeal to them, write the melody and, if possible, get the complete song into the office by Thursday evening. We shall then try to have the song printed in time for sale at the Auto Show (royalties and copyright to the authors, who also split the $50) and to have it produced at the show. A committee will be appointed to hear the best songs sung and played and to select the winner. In case there are two good ones another $50 prize will be given. Although the time is short, we see no reason why a popular song should not result. Herewith some of the efforts:

She Oughto At The Auto Show

You oughto take your girlie to the
Auto Show,
Out at Verdun Gardens where the live ones go.
You oughto tell her first you plan
to buy a car,
To take her for a joy ride if she goes that far.
You oughto say you'd like so much to drive for her
And run her life as smooth as any engine's purr.
You oughto let her know that you
have plenty of dough,
Then ask her—She oughto, at the
Auto Show.

(Chorus)

Starting from here,
In highest gear,
You oughto head your bus that way.
Cuddle her near,
Tell her, "Dear,
We must ride together from today.

Japan, taking into account other considerations than tonnage, as, for example, armament and speed.

Mr. Hughes also had a conference with Mr. Balfour. The Secretary of State has postponed until today his conversation with M. Briand on the same subject of disarmament.

Admiral Earl Beatty, Admiral Baron Kato and Admiral Coontz are endeavoring to reach a technical agreement on the bases modified and admitted by Mr. Hughes. Thus there is being accomplished on the margin of the Conference and by personal contact direct work that will greatly simplify the matter of conciliation and from which may be expected speedy practical results.

FRENCH FOR U-BOATS

(Special To The China Press)

Paris, Nov. 20.—The Senate navy committee has passed a resolution increasing the submarine strength sufficiently to defend the the coastline. The naval authorities approve of Hughes' plan and believe that 90,000 tons of submarines should be kept by France.

WHAT USE IS IT, ANYWAY?

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 21.—The desirability of maintaining the Anglo-Japanese Alliance is strikingly treated in today's leading article in the Times, which questions the wisdom of the Alliance and recalls that even in 1911 Japan, with statesmanlike grasp of realities, recognised that the British Empire under no conceivable circumstances could fight alongside her against America, and adds that there is no question but that the people of the British Empire would simply refuse to do so.

Some of the Dominions would most probably find it impossible not to take sides against Japan and the Japanese Government probably understands that.

Britain would be dragged into the struggle, however much against her will.

The question arises for Japan as well as for ourselves, says the Times, whether under these circumstances it is desirable to preserve a Treaty which cannot be of benefit to her in the event of a Japanese-American war, and which undoubtedly is awaking the suspicions of America.

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Washington, Nov. 19.—Questions relating to the Far East were discussed at the first meeting of commissioners when Dr. Wang Chung-hui and Dr. Philip Tyau were present on behalf of China and made ten proposals. On Thursday a sub-committee met at which Dr. Alfred Sze acted as China's representative.

It was decided that the procedure should be that advisers and experts to various delegations should wait outside the door and enter only when special questions were to be asked. After answering such questions as are necessary they retire again to the outer hall and wait until called upon again.

A general meeting of the Chinese delegation was held today at which the schedule as proposed by America was discussed after which a general dicsussion on Chinese affairs was held.

LITIGANT SEEKS TO HALT SALE OF GOODS IN HARBIN

Films Seized Under Judgment Against P. F. Crawley Basis Of Action

With the purpose of halting the sale of certain property in Harbin lately seized by the United States Marshal on a judgment that was given in the United States Court last August against Mr. P. F. Crawley intervening proceedings were filed yesterday in the United States Court for China on behalf of Mrs. P. F. Crawley by Mr. Paul Falson, who represents her.

The judgment given against Mr. P. F. Crawley was for Mex. $8,000 and it was entered by default, as the defendant at the time of the hearing was in America. The suit was filed by Garner, Queich and Company for upwards $12,000 and was based on the grounds that Mr. Crawley had failed to make accounting for certain wines and liquors that had been shipped to him to Harbin at a time when he was acting for Garner, Queich and Company under an agency agreement.

The property lately seized at Harbin consists of films and moving picture equipment of the General Film Company of Harbin in which, it has been contended Mr. Crawley is a principal owner. According to the proceedings filed yesterday the ownership of this property is in Mrs. Crawley's name and a further hearing in connection with the execution of the judgment and seizure of this property is asked.

Steps were taken last night to halt the sale of the property in Harbin.

U. S. Would Scrap 845,000 Tons; Japan Only 289,000

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 17.—The following is the full text of the speech made by Secretary of State Hughes relating to naval affairs:

"The question in relation to disarmament which may be regarded as of primary importance at this time and with which we hope to deal most promptly and effectively is the limitation of naval armaments. There are certain general considerations which may be deemed pertinent to this subject.

"The first is that the core of the difficulty is found in the competition in naval program and that in order appropriately to limit naval armament, competition in its production must be abandoned. Competition will not be remedied by resolves with respect to the method of its continuance. One program inevitably leads to another and if competition continues its regulation is impracticable. There is only one adequate way out and that is to end it now.

"It is apparent that this cannot be accomplished without serious sacrifices. Enormous sums have been expended upon ships under construction, and building programs which are now under way cannot be given up without heavy loss. Yet, if the present construction of capital ships goes forward, other ships will inevitably be built to rival them and this will continue so long as ability to continue lasts. The effort to escape sacrifice would be futile. We must face them or yield our purpose.

"It is also clear that no one of the Naval Powers should be expected to make these sacrifices alone. The only hope of limitation of naval armament is by an agreement among the nations concerned and this agreement should be entirely fair and reasonable in the extent of sacrifices required of each of the Powers. In considering the basis of such an agreement and the commensurate sacrifices to be required it is necessary to have regard to the existing naval strength of the great naval Powers, including the extent of shipbuilding in progress.

ALL FREE TO COMPETE

This follows from the fact that one nation is as free to compete as another and each may find grounds for its action. What one may do another may demand opportunity to rival and we remain in the thrall of competitive effort. I may add that the American Delegates are advised by their Naval Experts that the tonnage of capital ships may fairly be taken to measure the relative strength of navies, as the provision for auxiliary combatant craft should sustain a reasonable relation to the capital-ship tonnage allowed.

"It would also seem to be the vital part of a plan for the limitation of Naval armament that there should be a naval holiday. It is proposed that for a period of not less than ten years there should be no further construction of capital ships.

"I am happy to say that I am at liberty to go beyond these general propositions and, on behalf of the American Delegation, acting under the instructions of the President of the United States, to submit to you a concrete proposition for an agreement for the limitation of naval armament.

SEEKS REASONABLE BASIS

"It may be added that this proposal immediately concerns the British Empire, Japan and the United States. In view of the extraordinary conditions due to the world war affecting the existing strength of the navies of France and Italy, it is not thought to be necessary to discuss at this stage of the proceedings the tonnage allowance of these nations, but the United States proposes that this matter be reserved for the later consideration of the Conference.

"In making the present proposal the United States is most solicitous to deal with the question upon an entirely reasonable and practicable basis to the end that the just interest of all shall be adequately guarded and that national security and defense shall be maintained.

"Four general principles have been applied:

"1.—That all capital ships in building programs either actual or projected should be abandoned.

2.—That further reduction should be made through the scrapping of certain of the older ships.

"3.—That in general regard should be had to the existing naval strength of the Powers concerned.

"4.—That the capital-ship tonnage should be used as a measurement of strength of navies and a proportionate allowance of auxiliary combatant craft prescribed.

PRINCIPAL U. S. PROPOSALS

"The principal features of the proposed agreement are as follows:

"(The United States). The United States is now completing its program of 1915, calling for ten new battleships and six battle cruisers. One battleship has been completed. The others are in various stages of construction, in some cases from sixty to eighty percent of construction has been done. On these fifteen capital ships now being built over $330,000,000 have been spent. Still the United States is willing in the interest of immediate limitation of naval armament, to scrap all those ships. The United States proposes, if this plan is accepted:

"1.—To scrap all capital ships now under construction. This includes six battle cruisers and seven battleships on the ways and in course of building and two battleships launched. The total number of new capital ships to be scrapped is fifteen. The total tonnage of new capital ships when completed would be 618,000.

"2.—To scrap all older battleships up to but not including the Delaware and the North Dakota. The number of these old battleships to be scrapped is fifteen. Their total tonnage is 227,740.

"Thus the number of capital ships to be scrapped by the United States, if this plan is accepted is thirty with an aggregate tonnage, including that of ships under construction if completed, of 845,740.

GREAT BRITAIN AND JAPAN

"(Great Britain). The plan contemplates that Great Britain and Japan shall take an action which is fairly commensurate with this action on the part of the United States.

"It is proposed that Great Britain

"1.—Shall stop construction of four new Hoods, new capital ships not laid down but upon which money has been spent. These four ships, if completed, would have a displacement tonnage of 172,800.

"2.—That Britain shall in addition scrap her predreadnoughts, second line battleships and first line battleships up to but not including the King George V. class. The reduction would be 411,375 tons.

"The total tonnage of ships thus to be scrapped by Great Britain, including the tonnage of the four Hoods if completed, would be 583,375.

"(Japan). It is proposed that Japan:

"1.—Shall abandon her program of ships not yet laid down, viz., Kii, Owari, No. 7 and No. 8 battleships and Nos. 5, 6, 7 and 8 battle cruisers. It should be observed that this does not involve the stopping of construction as the construction of none of these ships has been begun.

"2.—That Japan shall scrap three capital ships, Mateu, launched Tosa and Kaga in the course of building, and four battle cruisers, Amagi and Akagi in the course of building and Atago and Takao not yet laid down but for which certain material has been assembled).

"The total number of ships to be scrapped (by Japan) under this program is seven. The total tonnage of these new capital ships when completed, would be 289,100.

"3.—That Japan shall scrap all predreadnoughts and battleships of the second line."

MUKDEN SENDING MONEY TO PAY PEKING TROOPS

(Staff Wire to The China Press)

Peking, Nov. 21.—It was revealed here today that in addition to the $3,000,000 in silver bullion which arrived from the Mukden Warlord Chang Tso-lin, an additional $1,000,000 was placed in the hands of his fiscal agents to hold for the payment of soldiers holding notes of the two Peking banks which have been in distress. According to the military officials the additional sum was thought necessary in order to prevent dissatisfaction arising amongst the troops in the event that merchants refused to cash paper currency in the hands of the troops.

The native bankers are said to be emphatic in their condemnation of the Customs for what they say is a persistently hostile attitude towards Chinese banks. The bankers point to yesterday's withdrawals of customs funds from the Harbin Bank of China, as evidence of their contention that the banks are being unnecessarily harrassed.

In a public statement today, Sir Francis Agien stated that the withdrawals were made necessary to prevent any overpayment from the customs surplus. This was regarded by the bankers as being a poor excuse and not disclosing the true motive.

Tsao Kun today made an offer to the management of the Bank of Commubication for $2,000,000 loan, but he stated that the money was not in bullion. It is believed to be Salt Gabelle funds, procurable if needed.

A disputed sales contract covering a shipment of egg yolk to New York was the basis of a damage suit, heard yesterday in the Mixed Court before American Assessor Tenney and Magistrate Loh, when the Wah Chang Trading Company claimed G.$32,790.25 damages from Tah Ho Young and Co. for breach of contract.

According to the evidence presented, the Wah Chang Trading Company alleged that they purchased 67,200 pounds of egg yolk spray from Tah Ho Young and Co. on July 12, 1920 and that the shipment when received in New York was not up to specifications.

There is no encouragement to cleanliness in Soochow tubs and commodes. A man would prefer to go without his toilet rather than put up with the discomforts attending their use.

Compare them with enameled tubs and basins set in tiled rooms with hot and cold water running freely at the turn of a faucet. And after the bath all refuse is drawn off into a cess-pool leaving a clean, odorless room ready for the next occupant.

New Angles Presented In Ezra Property Dispute

Testimony Of More Witnesses Given At Hearing Before British Supreme Court

The hearing of the suit brought by Mr. Elias Ezra against his brother, Mr. Isaac Ezra, was resumed at the British Supreme Court yesterday morning before Judge Skinner Turner.

Mr. Ward continued his cross-examination of the plaintiff.

"Your case is that the defendant was quite satisfied with what you call the margin of security and that is why he gave you a guarantee for Taels 7,500?"

"Yes," said Mr. Ezra.

What was the precise bargain that you made. The bargain that the Taels 7,500 should be on the mortgage? I pointed out that he had ample security. He was reluctant at first.

Did you not try to get him to guarantee the entire Taels 15,000 required? Yes.

A very large sum of money in respect of what you call mortgage? Yes, there was a large margin.

Then why did he hesitate to give you Taels 7,500. He wanted to be quite safe.

DIAMONDS SECURITY

You were asking him to guarantee only Taels 7,500 and did not want money. He did not know what would result in case a re-sale.

Have you placed everything that transpired between you and your brother with regard to this transaction before the court? As far as I remember there were lot of discussions and hours of argument.

Did you tell Isaac that you had to find Taels 15,000? I told him before that.

Had he in fact given a letter to Mr. Somekh guaranteeing further Taels 7,500 or Taels 15,000 in all? As far as I remember no.

Was he so reluctant to go beyond Taels 7,500 when you told him that you would get your sister to deposit with him her diamonds and ear-rings? When I wanted Taels 15,000 he was only giving Taels 7,500.

Did you not tell him that if he guaranteed a further Taels 7,500 you would get your sister to deposit the diamonds and ear-rings? Yes, I did.

MEMORY FAILS

Did Isaac give a letter for a further Taels 7,500? I forget whether he gave it. He was agreeable to doing it. I can not recollect whether he gave a letter to Mr. Somekh for a further Taels 7,500.

Did you take to him the next day your sister's diamond and a letter from your sister? Yes.

Did you obtain from him a letter to Mr. Somekh guaranteeing a further Taels 7,500? I do not remember whether it was a letter for Taels 7,500 or Taels 15,000. He was willing to do the whole Taels 15,000. For the Taels 7,500 he was willing to get cover from my sister. They were both done at practically the same time.

The bargain was then that he was to guarantee you Taels 7,500 on the margin and Taels 7,500 on the sister's diamonds? Yes.

Why did you not tell His Lordship? Because nothing came of it. There were many propositions that failed.

RETURNED DIAMONDS

Did Mr. Somekh refuse to accept a further guarantee of Taels 7,500? Somekh insisted on having something in hand.

Did Hayim find Taels 2,500 and your sister obtain a loan of Taels 5,000. Yes, something like that in cash.

His Lordship—In fact, Mr. Somekh got Taels 7,500 in cash? Yes, my brother returned the diamonds.

Mr. Ward—Your case is that there was ample margin and my case is that you had to draw it out of him by threats of suicide and that you did not know what to do as you were in desperate straits? No, if he was relying on some security he would have said "leave these diamonds here."

I put it to you that he agreed to guarantee Taels 7,500 and that you got a guarantee for a further Taels 7,500 and that Mr. Somekh did not accept the diamonds but returned them? Yes.

Was it always present in your mind that the guarantee was money to give Somekh that he was covered by this mortgage transaction? Yes.

Your statement of claim does not say a word about this. Your statement of claim is that in the month of December the defendant agreed to pledge to the plaintiff Taels 30,000, a sum that the plaintiff required when as he was in financial straits, the properties to be transferred to the defendant's name. You ask for a declaration for a reassignment of the properties. Why did you not advise your solicitors about the transactions? He did not pay in cash.

You had also forgotten another sum—a check for Taels 1,000? Yes. It was a running account. It was paid out the same day.

Did you buy the Mohawk Road property from Mr. Harry Morriss and what did you pay? Eighty thousand dollars and a little for the furniture.

You wanted the house because it was near the Race Club? I really wanted it because it was more or less in the Chinese District. My opinion was that values would go up and it would be a nice house to live in. I spent from Taels 20,000 to Taels 30,000 on this property.

You and your brother at the time you bought the house were keen racing men? I was never a keen racing man. I never ride.

His Lordship—You have lived there ever since you bought it? Yes.

Mr. Ward.—I notice the Rue Massenet property which was transferred to your brother is registered in Raven's name? I do not know in whose name it was registered.

It is your house and you do not know in whose name it is registered? I mortgaged it with the China Mutual Insurance Company and I do not know in whose name it was registered.

But the China Mutual people did it for you? Yes, I paid Taels 18,000 to the China Realty and it cost me another Taels 10,000 to complete the house.

You know that Mr. D. M. Gubbay approached your brother in March and proposed to you that he should sell the Rue Massenet property? I told Mr. Gubbay that I paid Taels 20,000 and that it was cheap at that.

There have been considerable increases on all these properties since December last year? In one of them, yes. I should say the Great Western Road property had increased from Taels 5,000 to Taels 10,000. Rentals have been going up.

You tell us he was to wait until the end of the year before he got sixteen percent on the Taels 30,000? Yes.

Do you remember a dinner party in April given by Golding for Mrs. Isaac Ezra. Gensburger was a tenant at the Rue Massenet house to whom you had written that you had sold the property to Isaac? Answer—Yes.

Did any discussion take place between Gensburger and Isaac Ezra? Answer—A week before I told him that it was a loan and he asked me what interest I was paying and I said sixteen percent. He said "Your brother should be ashamed of himself to charge you such a high interest."

Did Mrs. Isaac Ezra say it was her husband's house? Yes.

The land on the Great Western Road was obtained for you by Gutierrez. When this transaction between yourself and Isaac took place in December did you telephone Gutierrez and tell him that you had sold the property? Answer—No.

You told us previously that you compromised a debt? Answer—I sacrificed a debt two years hence and Isaac guaranteed me to a broker for a loan a year and a half hence.

In further cross examination the plaintiff said he heard his brother was dealing direct with Moorehead, adding that he always said, he was going to sell the house for Taels 130,000 and would give me credit.

His Lordship: I think you said that he took up the position that he was entitled to sell? He was determined to sell this property of mine and to credit my account with the full amount. His words were: "Why should I sacrifice my property or shares?" That has been his attitude since we had the trouble. He said he would consider it as a loan if I acquiesced in the sale. In April he insisted on selling it and crediting me in full.

His Lordship: In April he took up the position that he had a right to sell? He had a right to sell as I had no legal standing.

Mr. Ward: The only way in which he would agree to find the money if you would give him absolute assignment? That was the only way he was prepared to make the loan.

I will conclude my cross-examination by asking you whether your letter of May 22 to your brother represented correctly your attitude in life? Absolutely.

THE LETTER

The letter is as follows:

May 22, 1921.

Dear Isaac.

I am writing this because you happen to be my brother and not because you deserve the slightest consideration.

I have given my lawyers definite instructions to proceed tomorrow, but the evidence I have will not give you the slightest chance of success.

It has been my ambition to help all others I have come in contact with and I believe that one's mere existence should be such that when one leaves this world that his short sojourn in this world should be such that he has left it a little better behind.

I do not say I have succeeded in my efforts but certainly I had felt that any one who does not leave this world a little better behind, his existence is an absolute waste.

I live in hopes to realise my sentiments, the steps I am taking tomorrow are such that whatever happens will destroy you, circumstances fortunately compels me to take, certain facts which I will have to bring out, will be most detrimental to you and makes me feel that I should be placed in this position. Moreover, I remember you are a man with a wife and child. Now I have explained myself: I now feel more relieved, and if you still persist in your sidised railway and steamship lines either owned or controlled by the Japanese Government.

"The Anglo-Japanese Alliance has aided, not deterred Japan in the accomplishment of these militaristic and economic ambitions.

FEAR THREE-PLY PACT

"So many secret agreements have been made that Chinese statesmen tell me that they fear that the abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese agreement will be followed by a secret Anglo-Japanese-American agreement. That statement is part of propaganda spread by the Japanese at this moment.

"Japanese propaganda in China is wonderfully efficient. I should not like to say how many newspapers printed in China are controlled by Japan. In addition, there are a number of quite ably conducted Japanese newspapers printed in English such as the North China Standard which at first glance misled even me. It looks exactly like a well made up American morning newspaper; it gives a great deal of American and British news and runs quite a number of American features.

"The reaction of news from Washington here is that the Japanese delegates seem to have hypnotised the Conference. That may be due to the fact that owing to the very high cable tolls, American and British news is very severely condensed.

"This Conference is a first check to the Japanese military party.

"When first invited they balked at it, now they hate it. Patriotic Chinese look to it with hope but they distrust their delegates whom they believe to be under Japanese influence."

STOP IN SHANGHAI BRIEF IN DURATION BUT STRENUOUS

After a stay of but fifteen hours in Shanghai—his waking portion of which was filled by a strenuous program of sightseeing and visits to newspaper offices—Lord Northcliffe, world-famous publisher, sailed yesterday afternoon by the P. and O. steamer Nyanza for Singapore.

Lord Northcliffe arrived Sunday night from Nanking, where he was met by representatives of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce of Shanghai, of the Chinese Newspapermen's Club and of THE EVENING STAR and THE CHINA PRESS. Addresses of welcome from the Chamber and the Newspapermen's Club were presented to him by Mr. Francis Zia.

Yesterday morning the visiting publisher made a rapid tour of the local newspaper offices, visiting the establishments of THE EVENING STAR and THE CHINA PRESS, the North China Daily News, the Shun Pao and the Sin Wan Pao. He also called at the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Museum and received deputations from the local Chinese and Japanese communities and was whirled by motor about the city in an intensive sightseeing trip.

The Northcliffe party included Mr. H. G. Milner, his brother-in-law, and three secretaries, Messrs. H. W. Snow, H. M. Collinson and J. H. R. Prioleau.

Lord Northcliffe will break his journey home at Singapore and will visit Java and Siam, going then to Ceylon for a week of golf and fishing. He then proceeds to Egypt and Palestine and will spend the end of the winter in Southern France.

CHOY, DEFENDANT IN EMBEZZLEMENT CASE, IS HEARD

Vigorous denial of wrongdoing was voiced yesterday in the Court of U.S. Commissioner F. J. Schuhl in the embezzlement case in which William Choy, an American born Chinese, is defendant and which was brought on complaint of Fearon, Daniels and Company by whom Choy formerly was employed.

It was alleged that Choy had sought to transfer to his own uses a certain native check received recently in the firm's mail in the sum of Tls. 2,310. The prosecution closed its case yesterday and without presenting testimony Attorney R. S. Haskell, representing the defense, said his client merely desired to present a statement to Court.

In this statement Choy reviewed circumstances in connection with the handling of the letter that had contained the check and concerning the check itself, saying he had followed the ordinary procedure. He asserted no effort had been made to conceal anything from the firm and he contended that it would have been impossible for him to convert the check to his own use without that fact becoming known in the office.

Mr. J. B. Davies, representing Fearon, Daniel and Company and Mr. Haskell then presented their summing up of the case and Commissioner Schuhl said it would be taken under advisement.

HOTEL ORDERED TO SETTLE FOR DAMAGED TRUNK

Mrs. George Van Corbeck, a newcomer to Shanghai, who sued the Grand Hotel Kalee for $451 for damage she alleged had been done to a trunk full of clothing through the negligence of the hotel was awarded a judgment in the sum of $25 and was granted certain other concessions yesterday at the conclusion of the hearing of the case in the Court of U. S. Commissioner F. J. Schuhl.

Mrs. Van Corbeck was represented by Mr. R. S. Haskell and Mr. J. W. Schoenfeld appeared for the hotel company. When the verdict was announced Mr. Haskell filed notice that he would appeal.

Mrs. Van Corbeck arrived in Shanghai on August 10 from Vancouver, B.C. and became a guest at the Kalee. The damaged trunk was one of several that she turned over to the hotel to be stored and it was in the typhoon between August 10 and 29 that the trunk became wet. Its contents again yesterday were unpacked in court.

In addition to the judgment for $25 the court directed that the hotel company should replace one pair of cotton blankets, pay for the dry cleaning of two cloaks and pay also for repairs to the trunk.

Bungling Burglar Breaks Into Jail

Amateurish tactics in the burgling line landed an unemployed Chinese in the Mixed Court yesterday, where he was given a nine months' sentence. The man was seen by C. P. C. Sunday sitting astride a crossbar between the Ezra Building and the structure to the east on Kiukiang Road. He was engaged in removing the putty from a window in the Ezra building. When the policeman shouted he slid down a rain pipe and was gathered in. It was then found that he had previously got into the building by the back entrance and had bored fourteen holes in Mr. E. Ezra's office door, failing, however, to effect an entrance. Examination of his police record showed that he only recently got out of jail following a three months' sentence for theft of $350 from the Ezra office.

Funeral services were held on Sunday for the late Mr. Y. C. Tong, a large number of friends of this prominent and beloved Chinese member of the community attending to pay tribute to his memory.

The procession included over two hundred carriages and motor cars, proceeding from the residence at 640 Avenue Haig to the International Cemetery on Hungjao Road.

The service at the grave side was read by the Rev. G. A. Fitch, of the Y. M. C. A.

Christy Mathewson Fund Of $30,000

New York, Oct. 24.—A check of $30,000 was sent today to Christy Mathewson, who is fighting tuberculosis at Saranac lake. The money was paid by New York baseball fans at a benefit game for the former Giant pitcher, September 30.

Mathewson's gift is more than the players' pool in the world's series of 1905, when Matty pitched the Giants to three victories and the championship over the Athletics. The 1905 players' pool was $27,434.

Ten Foreign Basketball Teams Organise League

Play Scheduled To Commence Dec. 1; 90 Games Are On The Card

The Shanghai Foreign Basketball League was formally organised at a meeting held at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. last night, with ten teams entered for the winter play which is set to begin Thursday, December 1.

Ninety games will be listed on the basketball schedule, with each team down to play each other twice. But two floors in Shanghai are available, with a third available for one game each week at the Shanghai Baptist college.

The teams entered are:
Rowing Club (Port Side)
Rowing Club (Starboard side)
Anderson Meyer Co.
Y. M. C. A., 1st
Y. M. C. A., 2nd
Shanghai Public School
Shanghai American School
Shanghai Baptist College
American Trading Co.
Standard Oil Co.,

The first three named teams are to enter the league as members of the Rowing Club, and the others as members of the "Y."

Games will be played commencing December 1 each Monday and Friday on the Rowing Club floor, and on each Tuesday and Thursday at the "Y" gym. The Rowing Club games as far as possible will be played at 5:30 and at 6:30 o'clock each day, while the "Y" games will commence at 9 p.m. Tuesday and at 8 and 9 o'clock Thursdays. The time of the games at The Shanghai College each week will be agreed upon between the captain of the visiting team and the Captain of the College five.

Mr. K. W. Irle, who presided at last night's meeting consented to draw up a schedule of games, which should be available today. It was decided to leave holiday dates open as follows: December 24, 25, and 26; January 2, and the Chinese New Year, February 5, 6 and 7.

The selection of referees and umpires will fall upon the captains of the teams scheduled to play each separate game. Each captain will provide one official for each game, to alternate in the halves as referee and umpire. It was felt that this was a better plan than to select and assign referees for the whole season.

Danny Frush

Danny Frush, the Baltimore featherweight, who met Johnny Kilbane recently at Cleveland for the featherweight championship of the world, and lost to the gray-haired champion by a knock out in the seventh round.

Ruth Likely To Draw A Penalty

Cincinnati (Ohio), Oct. 24.—That Babe Ruth will be suspended from all of the next season for his violations of organised baseball rules concerning a world series player engaging in a barnstorming tour, was the opinion expressed by August Hermann, president of the Reds, and formerly chairman of the National Baseball Commission.

"I am very positive that Commissioner Landis will not condone Ruth's action to any extent," said Hermann. "I am sure that the player will be suspended and possibly for all of next season. It is certain, in my mind, that he will not start the season with the Yanks at any rate."

AM'N FOOTBALL GAMES SET FOR THANKSGIVING

Shanghai Plays Am'n School; Army Meets Marines At Tientsin

There will be two big American Football games in China on the Football Holiday, Thanksgiving, one at Shanghai between the lighter Shanghai Eleven and the Shanghai American School, and the other at Tientsin between Capt. Hutchinson's 15th Infantry eleven and Capt. McLott's team composed of Legation Guard Marines from Peking.

Both games will provide a good example of the American fall sport. The Shanghai lightweights, by their close application to training and drilling and practicing of shifting formations, will not count alone on their slight advantage in weight when they meet the finely trained School team. They expect to meet the best of Coach Van Hock's tricks and beat him at his own game. The School on the other hand are confident of their fine condition and their acquisition of many 'Varsity attacks. The game will see some clever football.

The Army-Marine match at Tientsin will be a battle of husky players. The Marine eleven weighs 180 on the line and 160 in the back field, while the Tientsin team will run even heavier. The match will be the first ever played in the Far East north of Shanghai, and is exciting considerable interest in Tientsin among foreigners, other than Americans, who have never yet seen the game.

Thursday's game here will be the big match of the fall for Shanghai. The Shanghai light team already has a big following of fans, and the School will draw its own contingent, including its cheering sections, its banners and its songs that go with every Holiday School match.

It is hoped at the game Thursday to raise sufficient funds to purchase proper football tags for both teams. Tags will be sold before and at the game at about $2 each, the proceeds of which will be divided equally between the City Team and the School football fund. Both teams are now playing in pick-up clothing, badly in need of assistance and with no prospect for respectable accessories aside from Thursday's Tag sales.

Chicago Shows East Some New Football Wrinkles

In Defeat Of Princeton Team From West Worked Shift Plays Entirely New

BY WALTER ECKERSALL

New York, Oct. 23.—In the decisive victory of Chicago over Princeton, 9 to 0, yesterday Coach Stagg of Chicago displayed an article of football which will be the talk of the east for the remainder of the gridiron season. His shift plays, which were executed with clock-like precision, will be copied in later contests and they will be used by leading elevens of the section next season.

The main purpose of shift plays is to disconcert the defense. The ball is aimed to be snapped when defending players are shifting and in no position to meet attacks with all their strength. Coach Stagg had his offense so planned that the tacks hit at different points in most every play, and the Tiger forwards were at a loss to fathom this style of attack.

When plays were sprung behind unbalanced lines the runner was frequently sent back on the weak side. He generally slid off the center, who was pushed aside by the offending pivot man with the help of the guard on the weak side. The Maroon backs drove with so much power that they had little trouble to make ground when the defense was not set for the attacks.

The battering tactics were a revelation to eastern critics and other close followers of football. Chicago had been expected to play an open game with the forward pass, the principal weapon of attack. In the opening quarters the Maroons made few attempts to gain by use of the open game and concentrated on the Princeton forward. Time after time Timme, Thomas and Sorn tore through any part of the Princeton line or slid off the tackles, who were neatly kept out of the play by the superb boxing by Chicago's ends.

PRINCETON WAS OUTCLASSED

The strength of the Maroon attack may be gathered from the fact that Chicago made sixteen first downs against three for the Tigers. The scoring forward pass was executed perfectly and caught Princeton completely off guard. Princeton did not execute a single one successfully.

Middlewest football as played by conference institutions, Chicago especially, has gained in popular favor in the east. Previous to Saturday's game the battle was looked upon as a practice affair and considered a stepping stone in the development of Princeton for the later games with Yale and Harvard.

Chinese 'Y' Team Again Beats Japs In Pingpong Game

The ping-pong players of the Japanese Young Men's Association which holds the honor among the Japanese teams in this city played the members of the Chinese Y.M.C.A. last Saturday evening, and were defeated by the score 6 to 14. The contest was the result of the challenge. The games were watched by several hundreds of interested spectators.

The Chinese ping-pong players are claiming the championship of Shanghai by their third defeat of the Japanese. In the four games already played the "Y" boys have won three.

SOOCHOW SOCCER TEAM WINS OVER ST. XAVIER'S 2-1

Students Outclass Visitors Until Near End Of Game

Soochow, Nov. 20.—Saturday afternoon Soochow University football team defeated St. Xavier's team of Shanghai, at the Soochow University grounds, by the score of 2 to 1.

Each team scored one goal in the first half, and Soochow scored a second in the middle of the second half.

Soochow University clearly outclassed the visiting team until the latter part of the second half when St. Xavier's rallied and showed better teamwork than in the beginning.

Lea, full back; Liang, left forward, and Hong, goalie for Soochow, showed up especially strong for the local team, while Johnson, right center and Johnson, full back, for the visiting team were steady gainers.

Liang and Tsiang each scored one goal for Soochow, and R. Favacho scored the one goal for St. Xavier's.

New Angles Presented In Ezra Property Dispute

obstinacy you have no one but yourself to blame for the consequences which are inevitable.

Yours truly,
ELLIS I. EZRA.

Plaintiff, examined by Mr. Harris, said he left Edward Ezra on the 1st of July this year. It was over a month before the proceedings were started and eight months after Judah Ezra returned.

His Lordship: The point that Mr. Ward has put to you was that you were turned out of Edward Ezra's office. In other words, you were kicked out?—I was never in his office. My office was in the Edward Ezra building until July 1 this year.

Mr. Harris: With regard to the exchange contracts it has been suggested that the exchange contracts entered into by Judah Ezra were really entered into on your behalf?—No, not when they were entered originally.

His Lordship: When do you say that relations between you and your brother were definitely strained?—Sometime in March. We had a little strong feeling in March. After receiving the letter from Mr. Moorehead the trouble actually broke out.

His Lordship: On the 9th of April it was rather strained?—When I wrote the letter with the words "buck up," relations were strained.

His Lordship: Did you have any of the Tls. 30,000?—No, nothing.

Did you work out to get anything out of it?—I felt that we brothers should work together. I felt that what was mine was my brother's.

Was pressure brought to bear on Judah in May, pressure with regard to his own transaction?—Absolutely.

His Lordship, continuing: Did you ever use him as a cover for you in transactions?—No, never.

Now, you got to saying that Isaac Ezra was your employe. When was this?—What happened is his: Isaac was employed by my brother Edward and Isaac had a quarrel with Edward and he turned him out and I tried to help him. I said to him, 'Come and join me.' Isaac has been in my employ for eight or nine years. Although he was employed by Edward he was getting a small salary from me all the time. That ceased over a year ago.

When did he cease working for Edward Ezra?—In the end of 1917. That was entirely.

Was he in the habit of going to your house in Mohawk Road with his wife?—Yes.

What I want to know is when you entered into this transaction of December was there any discussion at all about value of the things in the house?—Except that I told him that he knows what it cost me. I told him it cost me Tls. 130,000.

Was there any valuation made of the things inside the house?—No.

You told us that a valuation was made of the building?—Yes.

Could you tell me the first time that the suggestion was made that your properties should be used to help Judah out of the difficulties that were culminating on Dec. 13. In other words, how long did the negotiations last which resulted in the document of Dec. 13?—A week or so, or some ten days.

ANOTHER WITNESS

Mr. R. Moorehead, examined by Mr. Harris, said he wrote a letter to Ellis Ezra, in which he made an offer for his house.

Was the offer refused?—Yes, I cannot say whether the offer was made in writing or not.

Did you subsequently purchase the property for Tls. 100,000—Yes.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ward, witness said he bought the property from Mr. Isaac Ezra.

His Lordship: Were you surprised by having the same place offered by Isaac Ezra, because on April 26 you wrote to Ellis Ezra and spoke to the "seeking of your property," adding "I wish to make you an offer," and in less than a month you bought it from another brother?—Isaac informed me that he became the beneficial owner of the property.

Mrs. Mozelle Sassoon, examined by Mr. Harris, said she was the sister of the plaintiff and defendant. She lent Ellis Ezra Tls. 6,500 in March or thereabouts.

Had you any interviews with Isaac relating to any interviews he had with Ellis Ezra?—I had many conversations, and during these conversations he told me that he lent Ellis money, and once I understood from him that he was negotiating to sell the property. One day he came in and told me that Ellis was trying to sell the property for Tls. 100,000 and the Chinese were in the house. I asked him to remind Ellis of the debt he owed me. He said he would.

Did you have any other conversation?—He told me that in a week's time if the did not sell it for Tls. 130,000 he would sell it to the Chinese for Tls. 100,000. I got to hear that he was going to ignore Ellis and sell it. He said there would be just sufficient for him and nothing to pay my debt.

Before opening his case, Mr. Ward, for the defendant said the present case was one of those that had to be approached with considerable sense of one's responsibility. It was a case where two brothers were in conflict. His Lordship's aim should be to see which of the two brothers had committed perjury. He submitted that every single fact which had not been open to dispute by oral testimony, was in favor of the defendant. He dealt with the facts shortly, and cited the principle of law applicable in such cases at home.

Mr. Isaac Ezra then was called to testify.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better."
JOHN J. LIPPA, M. D.,
Cleveland, Ohio.

"For several years I recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."
EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D., New York City.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies."
VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."
A. F. FEELER, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect as" "freedom from harm."
EDWARD PARRISH, M. D.,
Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children, in fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."
J. A. PARKER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

I'm A Funny Animal Says Lord Northcliffe To Press

to me to gauge the worth of what they say."

No part of the world is foreign to him. His travels have taken him everywhere.

STUDIES NEWSPAPERS

"I have probably visited more newspaper offices than any other man in the world," he says. And he proves it should you happen to ask his opinion of any one newspaper.

"New York?" he parries, in response to your question. "What do you know about New York?" And born New Yorker that you may be, he is soon able to prove by adroit questioning on little-known places that he knows more, or rather, remembers more than you.

It is Northcliffe's memory that is one of his most remarkable faculties. Names may fail to sink deeply at first meeting, but places, incidents, facts are stored in orderly array, apparently ever waiting for the need to recall them. He talks freely, but never on any subject with which he is not fully familiar.

His hobbies are few. In work, incessant work, he finds his chief delight.

WRITES COLUMN A DAY

"I never write less than a column a day for my papers," he says. "There was a time when I did write a great deal more—particularly in the early days. And I've had my copy chopped aplenty. But I never did object to criticism when the man who was doing the criticising knew more about it than I did.

"Now, of course, I don't interfere much in the running of my papers. I believe in giving the men in charge a fairly free hand. You know, they call me 'the doctor.' When anything goes wrong, they send for me. Generally I'm able to fix things up."

The conversation veered again to writing and reading.

WORLD'S STAR REPORTER

"Defoe was the greatest reporter that ever lived. His description of the Great Plague in London, written thirty years after it happened, is the most vivid bit of reporting the world has ever seen.

"I like a great many modern American writers. The Saturday Evening Post, I think, is one of our best publications today. But the one great piece of reporting, the one great piece of writing in recent years, came out of the war when Will Irwin wrote his description of the Battle of Ypres. It was an amazing piece of work. He just bumped into one little section of it. Then he went up and down the front. He saw a hundred smaller battles raging over thirty miles of front. Then he learned it was all one big battle. He put the thing into words. It was published in pamphlet form in London. More than a million copies were sold.

LIKED MARK TWAIN

"George Ade is a very clever writer, too, the best humorist in America today. Mark Twain? Yes, I knew him quite well. He was as likeable as his writings. Cobb was good, but his later writings show a decline. Hergesheimer; I like him, too, though I rarely have time for a novel."

Talk swung to sketches that had been written about him, fanciful tales of his constant bustling about, appearing in all sorts of out-of-the way places in strange and unexpected fashion at all hours of the day or night.

"Poppycock, silly poppycock. As a matter of fact I never dine out. A man can't do it and get down and do his work in the morning. I insist on getting to bed at 9:30 every night."

BAN ON MATRIMONY

As for marriage:

"Never get married until you're thirty. If you're a newspaperman don't get married at all. I married early, but I had already made a fortune when I was twenty-three. I have all sorts of trouble with my correspondents. They get married. I have to send them out on a sudden trip. Their thoughts are divided. They don't want to go. They want to be home. A man can't work efficiently under those circumstances."

"Work! Work! Work!"

The refrain was constant, unending.

It was echoed later privately by Northcliffe's secretary.

"That's all I've been doing ever since the Chief and I started out. But it's he that's working as well as I, ninety times harder in fact. He's a funny animal."

6 PARTS — A Strong drama! — 6 PARTS
A picture which had an enormous success in London and New York with two great Dramatic stars
TORA TEJE
and
TORE SVENNBERG
The picture is remarkable for the clear and straightforward telling of a story and for the medieval atmosphere created.
It is a rather sinister story of a nobleman who kills his unfaithful wife, and, in remorse, founds a monastery and does penance there as a monk.
IT IS AN EMPHATIC SUCCESS FROM EVERY POINT.

INDO-CHINA IS SPARED TROUBLES DUE TO FINANCE

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 20.—The Economiste Francais of the 19th of November publishes an important article by M. Arthur Girault on the monetary autonomy of the Colonies, especially of Indo-China.

M. Girault expresses his satisfaction that the Colonies, having obtained financial automony have risen in the public estimation. With regard to Customs and monetary, M. Girault is much in favor of the latter which allows the Colonies to avoid being involved in a monetary crisis in the Motherland.

He fully approves the report of the monetary commission of Indo-China and says that in a few months the compulsory currency could be suppressed. He concludes that the maintenance of the monetary autonomy of Indo-China, which constitutes the basis of the proposed reform, might, if the piastre were placed on a gold basis, make the monetary position of Indo-China as healthy as that of France before the war.

In the future the mother countries in Europe will perhaps look with an envious eye on the colonial institutions. It is comforting to think that beyond the seas there exist portions of France sheltered from the anxieties amongst which Europe is struggling.

Three French Mail Liners Ex-German

According to advices from the local office of the Messageries Maritimes, only three of the French Mail steamers which will augment the Marsailles-Shanghai service are ex-German vessels, instead of the entire five as previously stated.

The Angkor and the Amazone, two of the company's older ships are on the line temporarily until new ships can be fitted for the run. Both of these ships are French steamers.

The ex-enemy ships are the Cap Arcona and the General, which for the present retain their old names, and the Amboise, formerly the Friedrichsruhe. All are 15,000-ton vessels.

Dr. Peter Working In Flood District

Dr. W. W. Peter, secretary of the Council on Health Education is at present in Pengpu, where he is showing moving pictures taken during the floods in that district and also is conducting an active health education campaign in an effort to stamp out the frequent epidemics in the stricken areas.

The Health Council recently has received requests from the provinces of Kwangtung, Kiangsu and Shansi through the native officials for assistance in teaching the populace the elements of hygiene.

According to the local offices of the Council here an outstanding development in the campaign for better health conditions in the interior is the attitude of co-operation shown by the various missionary societies. Field representatives of the missionary societies have been delegated to visit the districts in their territory and distribute the circulars of the Council. These visits are followed by lectures by surgeons from the organisations interested who illustrate by means of charts and moving pictures the most essential points of cleanliness.

Dr. Peter will return to Shanghai in the course of a few days.

Firemen In Narrow Escape At Outbreak In Morrison Road

At fire which occurred at CD 12 Morrison Road early yesterday morning some of the Hongkew firemen had a very narrow escape. When the Hongkew Division arrived, the upper part of the shop, a brass smith's shop, was well alight, but the outbreak was soon held. To extinguish the fire the firemen went up to the first floor but the Third Officer, seeing that the floor was none too safe, ordered the men out and just after this the floor collapsed.

Damage was suffered on the upper; floors of five shops, all occupied by Japanese.

Protest To Rumors About Gov't Banks Not Being Sound

A protest meeting at which messages condemning the suggestion of international control of China and the rumors that the Bank of China and Bank of Communications were not sound were sent to the People's Delegates at Washington was held at the Chinese Chamber of Commerce Sunday night. Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Kiangsu Educational Association, Native Bankers' Guild, Amalgamated Association of Street Unions, Cotton Mills Guild and Chung Hwa Vocational Education Association were present.

The bank situation yesterday was reported as very quiet. According to the Chinese press the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications paid out $60,000 and four native banks paid out $20,000 on Saturday and are ready to redeem any notes. Prominent Chinese firms are also reported as having posted notices that they will accept the banks' notes without question.

APARTMENTS TO LET

SPEAKIN' 'bout Competition! Folks at my house ain't alarmed nor figurin' on movin' out to the Auto Show for chow! Fact is that fellow "Domino" sure got my animal, talkin' 'bout my "lookin' to my laurels." I ain't a Woodchopper, I'm only a Meatchopper tryin' to get along; so I just invite you, Mr. "Domino", to come to my home to chow at seven thirty P. M., Thanksgiving Day. I'd like to settle your convictions 'bout the best food in Shanghai. My folks will have California Grapefruit Salad, Santa Barbara Salted Almonds, Mission Olives, 'Frisco Noodle Soup, Vermont Turkey with Virginia Chestnut Stuffin', Cape Cod Cranberry Jelly, Boston Creamed Potatoes, Maryland Peas, New York Asparagus Tips with Mayonaisse, Carolina Mince Pie (with a "kick" in it), American Cheese and Crackers, American Raisins, American Apples, American Coffee (Oh Boy, what Coffee!), all from the good old U. S. A. I guess you're wonderin' why I didn't say "God's Country", I'll tell you why; every chap if he is a Regular Fellow regards the land of his birth as "God's Own" and he's right. And as there are a few folks out here from elsewhere, I want to avoid confusion so just say "good old U. S. A." What could be fairer? But.... there is a vacant apartment of three beautifully furnished rooms with private bath and "geyser" for two or three chaps or couple, and a single room for one fellow; where everything is as you DON'T get it elsewhere in Shanghai. "The best food in town" and no competition, so come along "Domino", and lets prove it. Elmont, 18 Quinsan Garden.

DELICATE FROM BIRTH

How Baby's Own Tablets Help Weakly Children.

In three words—"delicate from birth"—is expressed a world of anxieties suffered by mothers whose children have had a bad start in life. For little ones who are ailing, peevish, worried by teething, fickle of appetite, and unable to digest food Baby's Own Tablets have proved of the utmost value.

"My last baby was sickly from birth and the benefit Baby's Own Tablets have afforded is simply wonderful. They do all that is claimed for them and more, and I would not be without them for anything," writes Mrs. A. D. Waite, 1207 Fremont Avenue, North Minneapolis, U.S.A.

Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, are obtainable from chemists, also post free 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Peking's Financial Flurry

BECAUSE of the general belief that a Chinese bank failure of any importance at this time would be the match to light the conflagration of political disorder, which in turn would wipe out the existing semblance of central government and drive China disorganised and helpless before the Conference at Washington, an importance out of all proportion to that attaching in normal times has been given to the runs of the past few days on the banks of China and Communications and several small native banks in Peking, Tientsin and Kalgan.

General diplomatic opinion has been that no good could come of a crash at the present time. Such opinion has crystallised in the allocation of four and one-half million dollars of salt surplus from the Gabelle's account in three foreign Shanghai banks to save the threatened institutions. Upon what terms or basis this money is made available to the needy banks is not made public, nor is it yet made public whether or not such allocation will interfere with the redemption of first year domestic loan bonds, which is monthly conducted by Sir Francis Aglen with surplus salt revenues.

Although the Bank of China, Peking Branch, alone, is said to require three million dollars to cover note issue and non-time deposits, it is generally believed that the four and one-half million of salt funds will be sufficient to see the run through and put demands on the banks back to normal. Beginning from last Friday the banks have been paying out only one hour each day, while those who wish to withdraw money or cash notes are allowed to stand in line and wrestle with police and soldiery, until their ardor cools off and the run dies.

The seriousness of the time in which the run has come has given rise to suspicion on the part of many Chinese as to foreign and particularly Japanese instigation. The Chinese trait of inevitably trying to place on outside elements the blame for difficulties brought on by mistakes or recklessness must be set off against the possibility that any foreign interests have anything to gain by throwing China into financial chaos at the present moment. Recklessness of Chinese banks in overissue of notes (it is impossible to find out to what extent bank notes are covered), the disorganised state of governmental finance, in which these banks have been more or less involved, and the general apprehension that some drastic change in China's international position and internal government may result from decisions made at Washington are likely and natural factors to have brought on the flurry.

The incident, from present appearances, will have no drastic after-effects. It does, however, bring to view the importance of efficient and honest management of government finance, not only to the stability of the government but as well to that of native business and finance.

The fact is that the two Chinese banks which rank most nearly as national have been saved only through assistance from revenue collected under foreign control. Is this to be an effectual finger of warning to the reckless financiers of Peking?

Genro Control China Delegates—Northcliffe

The belief that not only Japan, but the Chinese delegates to the Washington Conference are controlled by the militarists, the elder statesmen, of Japan, was expressed by Lord Northcliffe in the following statement which was published exclusively in THE EVENING STAR last evening.

Lord Northcliffe's impressions are the result of extensive investigation conducted by members of his staff, supplemented by the intensive personal inquiry which he is just concluding. He says:

"The genro or elder statesmen not only control Japan but control the Chinese delegates at Washington through Governor Chang Tso-lin, who finances the Peking government. The Southern Republic, with many millions of supporters, is not represented at Washington."

"Said a distinguished Japanese liberal to me, 'The Washington Conference is the first check the war party in Japan has ever received. Whatever their representatives may say at Washington, the war party in Japan hates the conference. They balked at it when first invited. They are now only studying how to evade its decisions in the future.'

WAR PARTY SUPREME

"That statement was confirmed by many Americans and British I met in Japan. The publication of their names would lead to their being driven out of business. The war party and armed police, who are everywhere, control free speech, and the freedom of the press, and forbid Freemasonry.

"Reinforced by the Anglo-Japanese agreement, they tyrranize over the people. By its aid, Japan has spread northwards to Siberia. Southwards toward Australia, and eastward towards Alaska. In order to maintain a huge army and fleet, they spend more than half the people's money on armaments. Direct or indirect taxaction is so high that the cost of living equals that of the United States. These facts my staff and I checked up by inquiries of many foreigners long resident in Japan and Japanese of many classes.

"Foreigners of long residence state that the Japanese in general are polite and well behaved among themselves, and to foreigners, but under the war party rule, there is alleged spying on foreigners.

DON'T NEED ROOM

"Progressive Japanese hail the Washington Conference as their salvation. They state that the 'no room for expansion' theory is absolute nonsense. The northern island of Japan is practically empty.

"The war party hope for a continuation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance by substituting what they call the Anglo-American-Japanese alliance.

"As to Shantung, the Chinese are unanimous in their annexation of the sacred birthplace of Confucius. Progressive Japanese inform me that if Great Britain gives up Wei-Hai-Wei, the military party will give up Shantung, including the railway, after a good deal of show of unwillingness.

"The bad state of trade and high cost of living weakens the position of the four men who absolutely control Japan. The genro or elder statesmen not only control Japan but control the Chinese delegates at Washington through Governor Chang Tso-lin who finances the Peking government. The Southern Republic, with many millions of supporters, is not represented at Washington.

ALLIANCE IS JOKER

"My conclusion as the result of many conversations with Chinese, Japanese, British and Americans is that the Anglo-Japanese Agreement is 'the nigger in the woodpile' or 'the joker' at the Washington Conference.

"Apparently every British Chamber of Commerce in the Far East has expostulated against its continuance. If abrogated it will be absolutely necessary to take steps to inform all sections of the Chinese who are being told by the Japanese that it will be continued secretly. Leaders of the Southern Republic have asked me to suggest that all secret agreements extorted from China by Japan during the war should be laid on the table at Washington, including the twenty-one demands."

Musicians, Here Are Words For Auto Show Song

We'll buy a little limousine lined with plush,
Just a comfy family car—No need to blush."
It may be rather sudden but she won't say "No."
Just ask her—She oughto, at the Auto show.

You oughto take your girlie to the Auto Show,
Take her there for dinner, she'll be keen to go.
You oughto take her out upon that big dance floor
And tow her through that new model flivvery score.
You oughto steer her in where all the big cars are,
And tell her she may take her pick of the bazaar.
You oughto drive her homeward in the gear most low,
And ask her—She oughto, at the Auto Show.

W. A. K.

HOOT!

Hello boys, hello gals, glad to see you all
Glad you came to see the show, hope you'll like the ball
Hope you'll buy a car or two, you're welcome just the same,
Hope you'll win a girlie too, one who'll take your name
Glad to see you any way, glad you came along
Hope you'll join and sing with me just this little song

CHORUS

Hoot! Hoot! hoot, hoot hoot.
Listen while I ask you. Ain't this show a beaut?
If you want a sweet patootie
Buy a car and win your cutie
And if you cannot buy a car, buy a hooter—and Hoot!

GOODBYE BLUES

Bill Bunyon was a Lonesome Luke,
Doc Duncan was his pal.
But Doc was never lonesome (for) He always had a gal.
Says Bill to Doc one gloomy day: "Why am I sad and lone
While you, my pal, are always gay
And never known to moan?"

CHORUS (WALTZ)

If you're tired of being lonesome, weary of feeling blue
Missing the sunshine on all your cylinders, 'cause no one loves you
If you'd like to win a girlie, pretty, petite and divine
Buy a car for two and I'll guarantee you—'ll win a girl as pretty as mine.

So Bill went to the Auto Show
He picked himself a car
He rode down town in the high
With never a jerk or jar.
Says Doc: "Bill does she pick up fast?"
"I'll say she does," said Bill.
Very first block she picked up a gal
And gosh! she's picking 'em still."

E. K.

STEP ON HER, BOY!

I'm kind of a bum in a parlor chair
And never can drink tea quite right
I'm figured a simp while out on a tear
My jokes are always quite trite
But show me a jazz babe
A big limousine
A hint, or a hug or a twirl
And then I'm away to a regular day
And they say that I'm good in a whirl.

(Chorus)
Step on her, boy!
Step on her, boy!
We got a long, long journey to make.
We're going to the Motor Show to see those new cars.
Lined up by the flocks and flocks and gleaming like stars.
Step on her boy!
Step on her, boy!
We're going to prance right out with the best.
We're hitting on all six, my dear.
Don't pull no silly tricks round here.
Just step on her, boy!

THE AUTO SHOW

Hey! maidens and lads;
Hey! mothers and dads;
Let's off to the Auto Show.
There's plenty of fun, a prize to be won,
And the best of champagne will flow.
Then let us phone for a fliv,
For there we'll begin to live;
There's a band that you surely can never withstand
Tonight at the Auto Show.

Hey! maidens and lads;
Hey! mothers and dads;
We're now at the Auto Show.
Girls' eyes shine like stars in viewing the cars,
When they're offered a choice by their beaux.
Then let us skip through the gate,
Forget about being sedate;
There's joy in the air, every freedom from care,
Tonight at the Auto Show.

Hey! maidens and lads;
Hey! mothers and dads;
'Tis time to go from the Show.
You've all had your fling; like pieces of string
You'll feel about noon today-oh!
So on with your wraps, my dears;
You need not have any fears
In the car you'll feel cold, for your hands we will hold,
On the way from the Auto Show.

H. C. N.

WE CAN'T BUY IT

Have you ever stopped to think as you have looked at all the cars
And you know you haven't got a goldarn cent
That the men who have the money they can buy them when they will
But reporters they get less than

The gal she lamps the limousine and then she looks at me
And me—I'm broke, done, flat, all in,

So 'Vangie looks at me and then she looks hard at this car.
It's big and bright and yaller, you can hear it from on far,
It's struck her fiendish fancy and she wants to lead it home,
Says she, "Now listen Colored man, that's mine or we don't roam?"
You'll buy that bus and buy it now, you've got to get the dough
I don't care how you get it, but you've got to get it, Bo,
I'm sick and tired of wasting time on any flivver guy,"
And me, I'm quivring in my boots, you know the reason why:
(Repeat Chorus)

B. K.

LET'S GO

There's an old old town on this dear old globe,
That compares more or less with the age of Job,
We've learned of its pagodas and fat little Buddhas
But never, no never, its cars has it showed us.
So lets get on our bonnets and go, go, go,
To the first Shanghai Auto show:

Chorus

Lets all go to the Auto Show, and see those classy cars be sold,
French cars, English cars, American cars you'll behold,
You'll learn more of their parts than ever has been told.
Other attractions too you will see, good music, dancing, food and tea,
Plump girls, slim girls and pretty girls you'll agree,
So put on your bonnet and come on with me.

B. I.

Heaven sent
So behold the limousine!
The gaily painted Ford!
And sing with us this dear old sweet refrain

(Chorus)

We can't buy it, we can't buy it.
But we'll look with all the rest.
For father did not leave us any dough
And we struggle oft and long
But we still must sing this song
We can't buy it but we'll look with all the rest.

B. K.

THE AUTO SHOW

When the daily toil is done,
And the town is out for fun,
Often comes the question "Where are we to go?"
Pleasures after all are few,
For we want something that's new,
Something that will set our tired nerves aglow.

Chorus

Let us go to the Auto Show,
Out at pretty Verdun Garden;
There'll be joy, without alloy,
Let's not miss a chance so golden,

It will be a fairy land,
'Livened by the Carlton Band,
Where the myriad lights will shine upon the scene;
You can dance, sit, eat or walk,
See the sights and hear the talk,
And in short you'll not regret that you have been.
(Repeat Chorus)

JOHN LORAIN.

THE AUTO SHOW

(As Bert Williams Might Want To Sing It)

Now listen folks, I'll tell to you the story of my woe;
It happened here in Shanghai, and at this Auto Show:
I takes my gal named 'Vangeline, the gal I aims to wed,
And off the bat dear 'Vangy gets fool notions in her head.
She lingers round the Packard booth, then lamps the big Rolls-Royce,
And dear, says she, I think that we should pick this for our choice.
It's just a little limousine, a simply splendid buy
But I am sick and ill and dead, and here's the reason why:

Chorus:

Because I'm broke, done, flat, all in,
My pockets are clean empty, ain't got a bit of tin,

Fifty Dollars First Prize!

IN visualising Shanghai as one of the really great cities of the future, Mr. A. G. Stephen, chief manager of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation in the Far East, laid emphasis on the necessity of looking fifty years ahead.

The City of New York's Public Service Commission is planning now for improvements which will not be accomplished for 45 years. Shanghai, with its prospects of developing into the principal port of the Far East may well go five years further into the future in mapping out the scheme of its ultimate extent.

What will traffic conditions and facilities—land and water—be fifty years from now? What sort of buildings will be required to care for the city's commercial and industrial growth? What of a city beautification plan?

For the best suggestion of what Shanghai should look like in 1971 THE CHINA PRESS and THE EVENING STAR will give a prize of fifty dollars. Second and third prizes will be $15 and $10.

Send in your ideas on the subject to the editor of either paper—with a sketch if possible.

An every way efficient and beautiful city is possible long before 1971 if everyone gets to thinking about it now.

What's Your Idea?

Correspondence

50 YEARS AHEAD

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir: I viewed with curiosity, the picture, by Zane, in Saturday's CHINA PRESS where he trys to picture what Shanghai will be like in 50 years. Now, I must beg to say that my ideas differ from Zane's in every respect.

I do not think that Shanghai will have many more high buildings than she has now. It is true that it is extending out towards Jessfield and Kiangwan but these are costly dwellings and not high buildings.

As for the big bridge, as Zane drew in his picture; this will never be built because there is not and never will be any need for it.

In my opinion, Pootung will one day grow like Shanghai. In fact, she will very likely be a great city in about a hundred years.

Woosung will have big buildings (without the bridge) in time to come. If so, Woosung will become one of the biggest ports in the world.

As for rickshas and wheelbarrows going by engine, this will be impossible. For instance it will put thousands of people out of work; the propellers will make too much noise, take up too much space and cause an enormous wind to the discomfort of all in the street.

I remain,
Yours truly,
K. G. Joseph.

"One leads where many follow."
Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

Hall's Distemper (Registered Trade Mark) is a unique preparation and has the recommendation of leading sanitary authorities, architects, and decorators everywhere.

Avoid disappointment by refusing substitutes which do not possess its advantages.

Reincarnation Is Lecture Topic

Materialism, sudden creation of the soul at birth, and reincarnation were the theories of life which were thrown into contrast by Capt. G. W. Carter in a lecture on "Reincarnation; Its Necessity" on Saturday evening to a very appreciative audience at the Theosophical Society's rooms.

There are only three possible theories to account for the soul, the speaker said, those of materialism, sudden creation by God at birth and reincarnation. Materialism was described as a gloomy philosophy based on unfounded assumptions; sudden creation was described as a fantastic idea which would make men mere human automata, without the power to act on their own violition and quite irresponsible for their good or evil characters at birth.

If materialism is an impossible philosophy, then the popular belief that the soul is created at birth is also impossible. It is a theory that encumbers its belief in immortality with conditions that destroy justice and defy logic. That old form of belief has outlived its day. It was possible at any time only because there was too little information and, like the old belief that the world was flat, it must yield place to the newer knowledge.

The truth of evolution is the staunchest friend of religion. It is the foundation on which may be built a scientific belief in a Supreme Being, a rational faith in immortality and a "brotherhood of man" that has a basis in nature itself. The very idea that was hastily thought to be destructive of a belief in God and heaven and immortality is rapidly becoming the most important witness to the truth of them all. While it is true that in the earliest days of evolution the most eminent scientists were agnostic, it is equally true that to day the most eminent scientists of the world believe in the existence of the soul, and in its immortality, and base that belief upon scientific grounds.

If the soul has no pre-existence it can have no responsibility at the time of birth. Neither can it have any merit. One is born with a sound mind and moral insight. These qualities may lead to salvation but the man has done nothing to earn them. Another is born with cruel and vicious tendencies and poor intellect. He may therefore miss salvation, but if he had no pre-existence he can have done nothing to deserve such a start in life. If we are really here for the first time then justice can be done only by giving us equal equipment at the start and equal opportunities afterward.

Think for a moment the speaker urged, of the sweeping difference between human beings at birth. There is every degree of vice and virtue from the savage to the saint and every mental variation from the fool to the philosopher. If God really creates the soul at birth, then one is created wise and kind though he did nothing to earn it. Another is created vicious and depraved. He did nothing to deserve it. One is showered with natural gifts to which he is not justly entitled. Another is blighted with a stupidity he did nothing to incur; and we are asked to believe that God made them thus! Such a belief is contrary to reason and justice.

Reincarnation, the speaker said, is a satisfactory working hypothesis, because it restores justice to God and power to man; by it we see that the world is a great university in which the soul learns the lessons of life and which furnishes a place where fully-rounded development is possible. We come into incarnation with the character we have made in past lives and character is the only thing that we can take out of this world. We shall return to earth life after life until we possess a perfect character, in other words, until we attain human perfection.

TEXACO

TEXACO CRATER COMPOUND
The Great Gear Lubricant

Texaco Crater Compound is a special lubricant for heavy gears and wire rope. It preserves gears; shields them from dust and dirt, prevents friction, and eliminates machinery noise. Use "Crater" on all heavy gears working under conditions of extreme pressure. It clings to gear teeth when nothing else will, but is fluid enough to allow free lubrication.

As a preservative for wire rope and chains, Texaco Crater Compound is invaluable. It forms a film of lubricant which protects from the action of weather, chemical fumes and contaminated water.

Wire rope and chains coated with "Crater" will last twice as long.

Gears lubricated with it will work noiselessly and more efficiently.

Aglen Will Hold Funds Of Customs Inviolable

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 19.—In connection with the Government's request to the Inspector-General of Customs to hand over to the Banks of China and Communications the Maritime Customs revenue balances in his hands in order to relieve the market in the present financial stringency and seeing the motives which are being attributed to him by the Chinese press, which are untrue, Reuter's Agency is requested by Sir Francis Aglen to publish the following statement:

"The Chinese Government when it requested the Inspector-General to undertake the management of the National Loans Consolidated Debts Service, definitely assigned the balance of the Customs revenues, after the payment of all foreign obligations secured on them, to the formation of a sinking-fund for the protection of subscribers to the National Loans, priority being given to the 3rd and 4th Year Loans of the Republic and the short term bond issue of the 7th Year of the Republic.

HOW LOANS ARE SCHEDULED

"The loans are scheduled as under the provisions of the Consolidated Debts Service, as follows: First Year Loan (converted 6 percent Bonds), Fifth Year Loan, 7th Year Long Term Bonds, 8 percent Military Loan, and Eighth and Ninth Year Loans; and liability for payment of drawn bonds and interest on coupons as due on dates for 1922 amounts to $25,085,515.80.

"Besides creating the sinking-fund, above described, for the protection of bondholders, the Government assigned certain revenues for the service of loans, payable to the Inspector-General of Customs in fixed monthly quota. Of these revenues the funds payable from the Salt surplus form the larger proportion. The Inspector-General assumed charge of the debt service on April 1, 1921, and until the end of fOctober the quota payable was received with more or less punctuality but with increasing difficulty since August.

"The Government, however contracted a number of short term loans and received several advances from the banks on the security of the Salt surplus and as no loan service has been provided for the payment of these obligations a situation has been created in which it is impossible to determine who has priority of claim to the limited amounts released monthly by the Salt inspectors. In these circumstances creditors who are in a position to exercise pressure have been able to delay payment of the Salt funds released by the Salt Inspectorate for the service of the consolidated debt and will continue to exercise this power in the future to the extent or even of making payment to the Inspector-General of Customs impossible.

PAYMENTS MUSTBE REGULAR

"It is obvious that a loan service, which demands the handing over to bondholders of large sums in cash at fixed dates, cannot be properly conducted without other support unless the payment of the funds, on which in the first instance it depends, are made regularly and punctually. Such payment is no longer being made either regularly or punctually.

"In these circumstances the Inspector-General has to depend upon the sinking fund which has accumulated and is held as a trust for the bondholders, and to divert these funds for any other purpose than loan payments constitutes a breach of trust. The bondholders may rest assured that as long as the Inspector-General of Customs continues to hold his official position their interests will be protected and the funds held in trust for them will not be dissipated in an attempt to meet responsibilities incurred by others.

(Signed) F. A. Aglen."

Foch Is Given High Honors In New York

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 20.—New York accorded a triumphal reception to Marshal Foch. From 11 in the morning until midnight the Marshal could not escape the acclamations of the crowd. He visited the birth-place of ex-President Roosevelt and then after attending a luncheon in his honor, the Marshal received the title of Doctor of Columbia University and laid the foundation stone of the American Academy.

In the course of the banquet, offered in his honor in the evening, Dr. Murray Butler, President of Colubia University paid a tribute to Franco-American friendship and to Marshal Foch.

RED CROSS WORK IN CHINA GIVEN TWO WIDE ANGLES

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Nov. 19.—Two distinct fields of work have been entered by the Red Cross in China and it is for this expansion that this year's annual campaign for membership is being carried on with particular vigor by the local chapters throughout China. Civilian relief in Chinese outports and support of the new movement of the Junior Red Cross in this country are the added features of the regular work of the organisation, and the officers and executive committee of the Peking chapter are making every possible effort to reach all Americans resident in this city in order that Peking may contribute its share to the Chinese work.

Particularly in Shanghai the Red Cross is often called upon to furnish relief to Americans who may be temporarily stranded in China, and although in the past such relief has been given, further funds are necessary if in Shanghai and other ports the Red Cross is to be able to meet every call for help. More important than this part of the work, however, is the putting on a firm financial footing the Junior Red Cross which is to be under the jurisdiction of the Chinese Red Cross. Certain funds for this work are obtained from America, but in order for it to function successfully it will be necessary to raise some $5,000 gold in China through the various chapters established throughout the country.

The annual campaign which is being held now in Peking will last until Thanksgiving Day, November 24.
